

(IRP the elephants.) If you said that these animals are called elephants, you were right.

Have you ever seen an elephant?

Would you be scared if you were face to face with an elephant?

What would you do if you were face to face with an elephant?

Did you know that the elephant is one of the largest animals on earth?

What else do you know about elephants?

Did you know that elephants take naps standing up?

Did you also know that elephants are very intelligent and have an excellent memory?

In your opinion, are elephants wild or docile?

Unlike lions and tigers, elephants are naturally docile animals, but they will attack if provoked or threatened or even for no apparent reason.

What do you think they eat?

Good. Elephants eat mainly plants.

Although being strong, can elephants run and jump like lions?

No, they can't. Even a horse runs faster than an elephant.

By the way, do you know how we say elephants in English?

Listen.

(P3X: elephants)

How do we say elephants in English?

(IRP one of the elephants.)

Is this called an elephant?

Is this called a zebra or an elephant?

What is this called?

(IRP)

There are still lots of other animals in the zoo.

Can you guess what animals our friends are going to visit now?

Let me give you some hints: one is the closest living relative of humans, and the other is one of the funniest animals in nature. Do you know what animals they are?

Let's see.
