

RIDING A BIKE

YOUNG FEMALE STUDENT: Hi, Greg. Where are you going?

YOUNG MALE STUDENT: I'm going to a lecture at the auditorium.

YOUNG FEMALE STUDENT: I'm going there, too. Let's go together.

YOUNG MALE STUDENT: What time is it?

YOUNG FEMALE STUDENT: It's six-thirty.

YOUNG MALE STUDENT: We're late, the lecture is at a quarter to seven and the auditorium is a long way from here.

YOUNG FEMALE STUDENT: You're right.

ON THE ROAD

BECKY: What are you looking for?

DUSTIN: A fast-food restaurant.

BECKY: There's one that way, on Cumberland Street next to the video store.

AT THE SUPERMARKET

WOMAN: Excuse me. Where are the frozen dinners?

STOCK CLERK: They're on aisle three, on your right.

WASHING A BIKE

SISTER: Ted, where are you? What are you doing?

BROTHER: I'm here. I'm washing my bike.

SISTER: Then, please wash my bike too.
